

Out here in Wyoming we are at the mercy of a few radio stations that oversell advertising and cut into what little programming they do have to put in the extra commercials. I drove for 20 minutes to home from work one day and never heard a single thing except commercials. That was the day I said enough and went to Radio Shack and bought an XM. I hope the FCC understands that I am XM's paying customer and not JOE BLOW AUTO down the street who is the local stations customer. I.E. I am paying for the privilege of not listening to these hokey local radio adds.

I KNOW WHERE TO GO TO BUY A CAR OR GET SOME CHOW. I DON'T HAVE TO BE REMINDED 20 TIMES A DAY. OR AT THE BOTTOM OF THE NINETH 2 OUT BASES LOADED AND THESE JOKERS BROKE FOR AN ADD. No Kidding!!!
